Bobby Newman, Ph.D. is an author, psychologist, and a board certified behavior analyst who works with children on the Autism spectrum worldwide. Newman is the director of Room to Grow and is the author of ten books, over two dozen articles in professional journals and numerous popular magazine articles on Applied Behavior Analysis and autism spectrum disorders. Dr. Newman also provides direct treatment, staff training and consultation around the world, and has been honored for this work by several parents and professional groups. He is the co-founder of the CUP Cafe (Coffee’s Untapped Potential), a Fair Trade coffee cafe staffed entirely by individuals with developmental disabilities.

Calvin Horn began sponsoring this lecture series in 1998 on behalf of his granddaughter. The Calvin Horn Autism Lecture Series highlights topics relevant to adolescents and/or adults with autism spectrum disorders.
