What Happens After Graduation?

Mary Beth Schubauer, PT, MS, ATP (ABD)
Jason Gibeau, MOT
Objectives

- Attendees will demonstrate a basic understanding of laws and the time-line related to a student’s transition from school to the community.
- Attendees will demonstrate a basic understanding of Medicaid Waivers and how they serve clients with disabilities.
- Attendees will be able to identify 3 work supports in the community.
- Attendees will demonstrate a general understanding of recreational/artistic supports available to adults with disabilities in our community.
- Attendees will be able to list at least 3 daytime rehabilitation programs in our state.
- Attendees will understand their role as the school and/or community-based therapist in regard to how to support transition from school supports to community integration.
2004 IDEA, section 1401: "(34) TRANSITION SERVICES - The term `transition services' means a coordinated set of activities for a child with a disability that--

(A) is designed to be a results-oriented process, that is focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the child with a disability to facilitate the child's movement from school to post-school activities, including post-secondary education, vocational education, integrated employment (including supported employment), continuing and adult education, adult services, independent living, or community participation;

(B) is based on the individual child’s needs, taking into account the child's strengths, preferences, and interests . . . "

Office of Civil Rights (OCR) enforces Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504) and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (Title II), which prohibit discrimination on the basis of disability.

- postsecondary school is not required to provide FAPE.
- postsecondary school is required to provide appropriate academic adjustments as necessary to ensure that it does not discriminate on the basis of disability (not required to lower or substantially modify essential requirements).
- must provide comparable, convenient, and accessible housing to students with disabilities at the same cost.

Student rights/responsibilities

- A post-secondary school may not deny your admission simply because you have a disability.
- You must inform the school that you have a disability and need an academic adjustment.
- School will probably require you to provide documentation showing that you have a current disability and need an academic adjustment.
- Neither your high school nor your postsecondary school is required to conduct or pay for a new evaluation to document your disability and need for an academic adjustment.

“The Special Services Department provides services to students with disabilities to ensure accessibility to university programs. For academic purposes, our services include disability related information, referral information, extended testing, reader services, note taking assistance, books on CD, large print exams, scribe services, adaptive technology, and sign language interpreter services. Academic accommodations are provided to eligible students free of charge. We are also a resource for tutoring services, study skills, community resources, and disability awareness.”

Settings by size include ICF/IID, group homes, and nonstate other; if nonstate other data is DNF it is assumed to be zero. DNF = Did Not Furnish. PO = Partial data (a DNF present in a calculation).
(a) Data may be from an outside source. * Rate reported by the RISP FY2015 report for further explanation. (1) Long Term Supports and Services (LTSS) recipients may include imputed values to replace DNF; up until 2012 people in psychiatric and nursing homes not served directly by the DD agency may be part of LTSS recipients. (2) Psychiatric Facility data prior to 2013 was only for state facilities, after 2013 it includes people in state or nonstate operated facilities when available, see report for details. Updated 3/20/2017.
